JPE son-in-law runs car show at port

JAMES KACHER, A SON-IN-LAW of Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile, operates Port Irene's vehicle yard that has attracted dozens of importers and conversion of right-hand-drive vehicles from the Subic Freeport.

He's not being paid by the government. He's paid by me. He's my son-in-law," Enrile told yesterday.

A National Bureau of Investigation official described Enrile as a retired US Navy officer in his early 50s and with roots in Luzon.

Kacher's group facilitates tax payments for vehicles shipped into Port Irene in Subic Bay, Cagayan, according to a Manila-based businessman who has contacts with people in

For deported Filipinos, it's Sabah or bust

By Julie S. Alipala in Zamboanga City

ZAMBOANGA CITY—FILIPINOS deported from Sabah in Malaysia are lost on returning despite the danger of getting arrested, jailed, humiliated and killed.

Kada Mui, a Muslim religious preacher (subag) from this city who had gone to Sabah to work as a carpenter, said being held for almost three months in the Karama Mui detention center there was more bearable than seeing his family caused by poverty.

The Philippines has a long-standing claim to Sabah, which lies in the northern part of the island of Borneo. An average of 150 to 200 Filipino men, women and children found to be illegal

WHAT HE, SMUGGLE! "If there's smuggling in the province, I am the only one who can do it. But I can't do it," Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile says during a press conference where he presents his son-in-law James Kacher (left). They both dispute the report of the American Chamber of Commerce that implied smuggling in Enrile's backyard.

Enrile defends booming used car business in Port Irene

By Gil C. Cabanagem Jr.

CLAIMING THAT A SUPREME Court ruling upholding a government ban on the importation of used cars was wrong, administration Sen. Juan Ponce Enrile, also known by his initials JPE, yesterday defended the entry of thousands of used vehicles into Port Irene in Cagayan, his home province.

Enrile brought along his son-in-law and used-car importer from Port Irene to the Senate to rebut a report by the American Chamber of Commerce (AmCham) that implied the Cagayan Export Zone (CEZ) in Port Irene had displaced Subic. Freight on the country's entry point for imported second-hand luxury vehicles.

Enrile's son-in-law, James Kacher, was part of the CEZ contingent that met the AmCham delegation, which visited Santa Ana, Cagayan, from May.

Bro. Mike: People just waiting for GMA to end term

By Juliet Labay-Javillana

IF PRESIDENT MACAPAGAL-ARROYO uses its prerogative to remove the people are just patiently waiting for her to resign last year or in 2010.

This view was expressed by El Shal-die leader Bro. Mike Velarde, the President's spiritual adviser, when asked about the implications of a recent Social Weather Stations survey that found Mr. Arroyo to be the most unpopular president in the country.

In Velarde's estimation, there won't be any more counter moves against Mr. Arroyo unless her allies move to extend her term.

"While we (Dio moro)," he said, despite the SWSS survey showing Mr. Arroyo with a negative 59 percent rating, said to be the lowest recorded by a President, since the Marcos dictatorship was overthrown in 1986.

But Velarde has a warning to administration officials.

"Just don't give the people a reason to ask Mr. Arroyo's survival," he added.

THE WRECK OF THE PRINCESS

30-minute predeparture inspection of ship a 'joke'

By Lela B. Salaverria

(First of a series)

BEFORE THE MY PRINCESS OF THE Stars sailed out of Manila on last Sunday's voyage to Cebu, PORT Police conducted the 23-minute predeparture inspection.

In 30 minutes, Starline was done with the vessel owned by Sulpicio Lines Inc., performing a task mandated by the Philippine Coast Guard (PCG) under a 2005 agreement with the Maritime Industry Authority (Maritime).

That took, on paper, about 30 minutes by checking the memorandum of understanding, its compliance with safety measures, the number of passengers aboard, provisions and inventing its captain of weather conditions.

Benjamin E. Mera, 77, is retired rear admiral, with the inspection "is joke." He says he can't imagine that the process can be done in half an hour.

But Sulpicio's cargo fleet will sail by next week on orders of President Macapagal-Arroyo. On July 2, the Police gave the company go-ahead to resume cargo services.

"This is a cooperative act motivated by the grounding of the Sulpicio vessels," Transportation Secretary Lito Mendoz told reporters after yesterday's hearing.

The undisputed source of 250mg of potent Reduced Glutathione in the country.

MET TATHIONE

100% MADE IN JAPAN. GUARANTEED!

Now, more than ever, you have to be discriminating in your choice of Glutathione supplement.

Most of those flooding the market are in the un-reduced form and, worse, fall short of the right amount of Glutathione to be able to provide any substantial therapeutic value.

MET TATHIONE, on the other hand, is 100% premium-grade Reduced Glutathione imported from Japan.

Reduced Glutathione doesn't mean 'less' or 'inferior.' It is in fact the scientific term used by authoritative dermatologists and medical practitioners to describe the highest grade and safest form of Glutathione.

According to the Woodlands Healing Research Center in Philadelphia, USA: "Glutathione must be in the reduced form to work properly. The un-reduced form is much cheaper and isn't metabolically active." (Source: woodmed.com)

How much Glutathione is enough?

In the case of un-reduced Glutathione, any dosage cannot compensate for its inherent weakness, or the fact that it isn't easily metabolized by the body.

On the other hand, each capsule of MET TATHIONE is a concentrated and more potent dose which contains 250mg of premium-grade Reduced Glutathione, 25mg of Alpha-Lipoic-Acid (a natural antioxidant), and 125mg of Sodium Ascorbate (natural Vitamin C).

Together, they help detoxify the body, strengthen the immune system, delay aging, boost sexual potency, prevent skin allergies and stress-related diseases, plus decelerates the production of melanin to whiten skin.

Trust only MET TATHIONE

If you put a premium on your health and looks, don't take chances with Glutathione supplements which may cost less but could put you at risk.

MET TATHIONE is 100% made in Japan and has passed the highest quality standards of the Bureau of Food and Drugs (BFAD) in the Philippines.

Be one of the many who now reap the benefits of this amazing supplement.

MONTALBAN METHANE POWER CORPORATION

The Montalban Methane Gas to Energy Project is the fourth largest landfill gas Clean Development Mechanism (CDM) project in the world. The Project is located in the municipality of Rodriguez, province of Rizal and makes use of the Montalban Sanitary Landfill. The Project utilizes methane gas produced in the landfill to generate clean electricity by installing an on-site landfill gas collection, power generation and flaring systems. The project creates additional environmental benefit via the Flaring component of the Project, which breaks down methane gas, which is a green house gas (GHG) 21 times more potent than carbon dioxide.

Montalban Methane Power Corporation (MMPC) is a predominantly Filipino-owned company (80%) led by Mr. Salvador B. Zamora II, in partnership with the Carbon Assets Funds (CAF), managed by fund manager and carbon trader Carbon Capital Markets, the remaining 40%. The latter is a British firm, which specializes in financing CDM projects and trading carbon credits.

MMPC makes use of the Montalban sanitary landfill where wells are dug in the landfill to collect the methane gas produced from the three (3) million tons of garbage in place. Methane gas is produced by biodegradable matters in garbage after it is dumped six months in the landfill. The methane is then piped to the plant and "flared", breaking down the methane. Also, the energy from the methane is used as fuel to power the gas engines for electricity generation.

The Montalban Project is a candidate for a Gold Standard (GS) Clean Development Mechanism status. The Gold Standard is an accrediting mechanism of the UNFCCC whereby Carbon Credits are certified as "real" carbon credits and are tradeable at a premium in financial exchanges. By being accredited as GS, it certifies that the project has undergone a process whereby stakeholders and NGO's were consulted on not only the environmental benefits of the project but also the economic and social additionality of the Project to the direct communities.

Message from Her Excellency

Warmest greetings to the official and staff of the Rodriguez Landfill Methane Recovery and Electricity Generation Project, Montalban Methane Power Corporation, your partners and guests in the commissioning of the power facility.

We cannot emphasize how important such projects are for our country. Being the fourth largest Clean Development Mechanism (CDM) project of its kind in the world and the first in the Philippines, the Montalban Power Plant could possibly become one of the models in the international community's fight against global warming and the deterioration of the environment. To have turned the problem of garbage disposal into a model solution for a global concern is already a great achievement. On top of that, the facility is enough proof that our country's own search for renewable sources of energy is on track.

It is through projects like this made through the cooperation of the private and public sectors that we can best demonstrate that the Philippines can secure a better life for its people but at the same time protect the environment.

With the plant and full operation, I call upon the people behind the project to continue your efforts to protect the environment from further harm even as you pursue your development agenda. I hope that this project will inspire other local government units to come up with their own innovative ways to counter the depletion of our resources but still serve the community.

Mabuhay!

Gloria Macapagal Arroyo
GLORIA MACAPAGAL ARROYO

Greetings!

Endorsing on a very innovative and eco-friendly project that generates renewable energy out of garbage and waste is indeed a tremendous contribution to the country and society. Congratulations to Montalban Methane Power Corporation for this endeavor! It is our pride and privilege that MMPC has chosen to make us one of the partners.

- Simon Carino, C.D.O. - Benkenon Construction Corporation

"We are very pleased that the Carbon Assets Fund has had the opportunity to invest in the path-breaking Montalban landfill gas to energy project. It will create substantial environmental and social benefits, helping solve problems of greenhouse gas emissions and energy demand simultaneously. Our sincerest congratulations to the whole MMPC team without whose hard work and determination this project would never have been possible."

Do not be fooled by text scammers!

The public is again being warned about text scammers which continue to extort money from people, including overseas Filipino workers.

MODUS OPERANDI

Text scammers use fictitious names or pose as government officials, send fraudulent text messages to their victims saying that their mobile phone numbers won in a raffle allegedly sponsored by the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas or other institutions.

The scammers tell their victims that to be able to claim their alleged prize, they should first send money to the scammers thru a designated account in a bank or remittance company.

The scammers also require their victims to send prepaid text to the scammers prepaid mobile phone numbers.

Once the scammers receive the money and prepaid text, the victims would no longer be able to get in touch with them again.

Village raided as GMA tours nearby

ALDOSON, North Cotabato—More separatist guerrillas stormed the village of Pagagan here, killing an elderly woman and wounding her sister.

The attack came as President Manuel Anson was in nearby Cotabato City for a visit. Although there have been no reports of any casualties, the president's presence in the area is seen as a show of support for the peace process.

Sinking also tragic for Sibuyan students

 By Rita Catherine Celis
 Jan Francisco, Sibuyan Island

MORE CLASSROOM SEATS ARE EMPTY IN SCHOOLS IN SAN FRANCISCO town on Sibuyan Island in Romblon since the sinking of their students have been thrown into by a bus on Friday, their only means of livelihood, following reports of sinking corpses and dead cargo inside the tanker MV Princess of the Seas near the shore.

"We lost most students right after the sinking of the tanker," said Antonio Balon, village administrator of the Romblon State College. The school has 800 college and high school students.

With a sustainable number of students, teachers and administrators have been saving the owners of 'Sibuyan Island' to immediately resume its passenger ferry, which sank in the Sibuyan Sea on June 21 when the tanker "Princess" hit the steep side of San Francisco and overturned, causing the sinking of the tanker.

With decomposing bodies still floating inside, the presence of the boat also caused loss of the nearby residents.

The Bureau of Fisheries and Aquaculture Resources has ordered the evacuation of the fish bars in a radius of 5 kilometers around the ship, but villagers are still not buying fish because they might have been contaminated with endotoxins decomposing bodies.

Only class a week

Class absences have been increasing since many students help their families rebuild their homes, but still, it is a week, most students would attend classes only twice, he said.

"The solution to this problem is to have a school system that is more people here could not improve," he said.

The school's tuition every semester is only P75 per unit. He said a student with a normal load of subjects pays around P5,000.

When the poor students could not afford the expenses they know they have come from towns like Marikina and Calapan and the remote villages of Agaña, Marikina and Calapan in San Francisco and around P20-P300 daily, he said.

Real prices have also gone up, he added.

But Marikina, 23, a fourth-year student of 88 Education at Romblon State College, had to skip classes for 12 days as he had to help his family rebuild their home.

His home was washed away by the waves caused by the tanker.

Work is down.

Marikina is the only one reported to have his family out of poverty, he said, a P10 school allowance every day, he said, he wanted to give up but was prevailed upon by his family.

The family of Marikina, 20, of San Francisco, which is several meters away from the tanker ship, is experiencing an emotional trauma, he said.

He said his 13-year-old daughter, Marikina, who is supposed to be in her high school, had to stop attending classes to work as a housewife to help in the house.

Given the choice, Marikina said she would not allow her daughter to work. "We always find ways for her to finish her studies because we want her to find a good job. But this tragedy happened," she said while breaking down for 7 months old baby.

For a month now, her family has been depending on the P1,000 monthly salary of Marikina. It is a source of the school's income that the local government has been withdrawing.

UN to stop aid airlifts to Burma next month

BANGKOK—THE UNITED NATIONS is set to stop flying its aid to Burma (Myanmar) next month, leaving relief agencies to find another way to bring in vital supplies to cyclone-stricken, ill-equipped borderlands.

The UN World Food Programme will stop flying aid between Thailand's three flying airports and Myanmar's main city Yangon from Aug. 15, and withdraw its helicopters from there.

Chaos in the logistical operation also means WFP will no longer provide unloading gear or decrees of trucks and boats previously used to carry supplies without delay since Cyclone Nargis hit early May.

All groups will be forced to rely on their own boats and trucks to get essential supplies to the western hill delta region, remaining open as Bangkok's Don Mueang will be transported by sea.

Next August 15th the full operation will be complete, from the beginning on were always intended to have three months of last emergency support as we are phasing out our logistical aid, WFP's Asia headquarters WFP-AP's Gregory said.

WFP's Gregory said his 100,000 200 aid flights last September alone the cyclone hit, leaving 130,000 people dead or missing, and killed a total of nearly 5,000 people in all in coastal Myanmar.

The UN's humanitarian chief, John Holmes, currently saving the debt, said the aid response will not be in relief phase. AFP

Zimbabwe crisis talks start Thursday

BRUSSELS—ZIMBABWE'S opposition MDC and President Robert Mugabe's ruling ZANU-PF will begin negotiations on a power-sharing deal in earnest on Thursday, officials said on Wednesday.

The talks kicked off preliminary talks on Thursday aimed at ending Zimbabwe's crisis, South African President Thabo Mbeki's spokeswoman said. He declined to say what was discussed on Thursday.

"I won't talk about what R.I. will say talks around, and 1000 are continuing," Mbeki's spokeswoman said. "They have stated more or less. They will be in earnest negotiations."

Mbeki, visiting in the city, also secured a handwritten deal between Mugabe and opposition leader Morgan Tsvangirai on Monday for talks aimed at ending the deadlock over Mugabe's re-election on June 27 in a poll boycotted by the opposition because of violence.

Pressure for power-sharing has come from regional states concerned by the political and economic crisis that has forced millions of refugees to flee to Zimbabwe's neighbors, most of them in South Africa.

Zimbabwe's state-run Herald newspaper said Justice Minister Patrick Chinemba and Public Services Minister Nicholas Gohe would represent ZANU-PF at negotiations, while the MDC would be represented by secretary-general Walter Muregi and deputy treasurer Glen Mungai.

The MDC would also have two negotiators in the talks. The MDC says 120 of its representatives have been killed since a last round of elections in March 20, in which Mugabe's Zanu-PF won but without the absolute majority to avoid a run-off.

Mugabe blames the opposition for the bloodshed.

The main aim of the President's talks will be the creation of a government of national unity, but the two sides differ on who should lead it and how long it should stay in power.

Mbeki has said the Zimbabwean parties have a right to work out a deal to resolve the crisis, which are expected to be tough and possibly acrimonious. The MDC has accused Mugabe and ZANU-PF of violating human rights and rigging elections.

The European Union on Tuesday increased pressure on Mugabe, saying it had agreed additional sanctions on Zimbabwe to target 27 more individuals and limit companies linked to the government.

The breakthrough between Zimbabwe's rivals appeared to follow MDC's agreement last last week to accept the mediation process to include the African Union, the United Nations and other officials of the Southern African Development Community.

Mbeki had been increasingly vocal, especially by the MDC, which accused Mbeki of trying to put a fire with kerosene.

Mugabe, 64, has dismissed the MDC as a puppet of the West and warned voters to let it take power. The president, in power since independence from Britain in 1980, has also insisted that the opposition accept his suggested strategy last month. Reuters

Security Council to discuss Thai, Cambodia row

BANGKOK—THE U.S. SECURITY COUNCIL is expected to discuss a tense military standoff between Cambodia and Thailand this week, Thailand's ambassador to the United Nations said on Wednesday.

Thai Ambassador said the Security Council meeting on Thursday was set to discuss the growing tension between troops from both countries facing off near an ancient temple on their border.

"I have been informed that the UN has included Thai-Cambodia (temple) on the emergency agenda to be discussed on the forum," U.S. Ambassador to the UN (Thursday)," he said on Wednesday.

The committee follows a call from the Cambodian government on Thursday for the world body to help broker a solution to the standoff.

The days of diplomacy between the countries failed to make any headway in the controversy centered on disputed land around the ruins of the 15th century Hindu temple overlooking Cambodia's jungle.

More than 300 Thai troops are facing off against at least 1,000 Cambodian soldiers over the small patch of land near the temple, that belongs to Cambodia but has crossed borders of Thailand into Thailand.

Thailand's chief negotiator in the crisis called for a "balanced" solution, urging an ongoing General Border Commission (GBC) of officials from the two countries would not be enough to solve the problems.

"It's unlikely that the conflict could be solved at the GBC meeting," he said on Wednesday.

"We also expect I think it's culture due to the fact, who must find a solution as they are the decision makers," Rosengren said, adding that Thai troops had been ordered to remain peaceful.

"Thailand and Cambodia both claim their soldiers remain on their own side, maintained by a small Buddhist pagoda at the foot of the mountain leading to the Preah Vihear temple. AFP

High hopes for China-trained Filipino divers

By Marc Anthony Reyes

ATMOSPHERE MAY HAVE THE BRIGHEST number of Olympic qualifiers, but the athletes expected to rise to the challenge are the ones who are literally taking the plunge—the divers.

Mark Manzano and Ryan Pineda, both in their 20s in the world, are among those on July 20 to join the training camp along with the 80 Olympic entrants at the Team College Aquatics Center.

"It's going to be tough, but these guys are prepared to give it their all," said Philippine Aquatics Swimming Association head Mark Joseph yesterday.

Schleck still wears yellow

France's Cyril Dessel tops 16th stage

LIJONBOURG, FRANCE—FRANK SCHLECK of Luxembourg kept the Tour de France leader's yellow jersey and gained ground on two-point stage on Tuesday's 16th stage, won by French rider Cyril Dessel.

Dessel took his first Tour stage victory by leading a five-man group of four riders in a downhill finish after the 157-km stage (177 km) took him from Gones, Italy to Lijonbourg.

"It was a beautiful stage," said Dessel, who is no threat to Schleck at more than 33 minutes back. "The race was a very intense finish."

Schleck finished 1 minute, 28 seconds after Dessel, but didn't have any time to sit back this time.

Schleck said he was not able to stay in the lead. "I think my body was pushing the limit of the Tour de France isn't just a day."

Schleck and Dessel made time on several previous stages, their third of the race. He slipped to 16th place, 1:12 back, after coming into the stage 5:50 behind, in fourth place.

American rider Christian Vande Velde had even more ground to the fifth place, falling to sixth place, 5:15 behind, after starting the stage 5:15 back of Schleck in 16th.

Ribet took a third place in the Alps on Wednesday—the leader since the race—before two more days of racing followed by what is expected to be the most intense finish, today's stage.

The stage took riders along two climbs which are beyond classification: the 21.5-km climb (13.5 km) to the top of the race and the 25.5-km climb (11.5 km) to the top of the race.

South African rider John Leander took the first over the peak of La Digne-Agnel, but he skidded off the road on a turn in the descent and ended a race, not a race.

Schleck's backside was not able to hold him together and a drop-out was ordered the night before the start of the race.

The 17th stage (Wednesday) is 200.5 km (124.6 mi) from the Gaillet and Gaillet de la Pénne and a finish up the Alps d'Arde—of these climbs are beyond classification. AP

STOUGHTON, U.S.—NADA POWELL took on the world's fastest man with every intention of beating him to the finish line.
